A Variety of applications

Why Hyundai L&C ?

- The entrepreneurial passion for seeing changes as opportunity and never standing still has made Hyundai L&C as a front-runner within the solid surface market with a track record of success since 1995.
- We provide you significant added values through the bundling of advanced technology and our experience and comprehension of the most varied challenges, day by day.
- By focusing on our core competencies, we successfully enhanced the product and solution portfolio to create a lasting impression - the ideal prerequisite for long-term business partnerships.

Strong alliance

- Hyundai L&C are pleased to announce a strategic cooperation since this year with REHAU in selected EU countries.
- Together, Hyundai L&C and REHAU want to offer their target groups a wider range of products and services as well as continuous innovation to develop new trends and to provide new impulses to customize the settings to meet the requirements.
